

WILLIS.

The Crown Law Office is not certain when Willis will be back in Sydney, as two other charges against him are to be heard. Assuming that they take only the same time as the other charges have done, he may be here in about six weeks. It is practically certain that he will then appear before the Lands Commission, and he will be called upon to give certain evidence in relation to improvement leases and exchanges.